“ I just learned of Alice’s death today. She was a wonderful lady - always caring, giving, loving and friendly. I loved seeing her beautiful smile. I had no idea she was ill. Please know that you all have my sincere sympathy. Your parents were very special to me. I just know they are basking in the light of Jesus’ love.

With love to you all, Jane Burgess

“ I had the pleasure of seeing Mrs. Alice every two weeks for about 25 years when she came to the "library truck" to get her books. What a sweet lady!!!! How I shall miss her!!!
I considered her to be more than a Bookmobile patron; I thought of her as my friend. Along the way Mr. Dock started coming with her and getting books of his own. In more recent years I have gotten to know Myra, Patty, David and Andrea. It is a testimony of wonderful parenting to see what terrific people Mrs. Alice raised. Big hugs to all of the Crowe family!!! I know you are sad and are missing her. I am going to miss her also.

But can you imagine the joyous reunion when Mrs. Alice went home? I know Mr. Dock was right there saying, Hey RED, I've been waiting for you. Come let me show you around.

“ I had a chance to meet both Doc and Alice almost 10 years ago, when I interviewed them (and several neighbors and friends) for two books I was working on. They were both gracious and engaging hosts, and very helpful for my research. After I attended Mr. Crowe's memorial service recently, Mrs. Crowe sent me an article about Jones Gap to thank me for coming, but I never got the chance to thank her for this kindness. She was a wonderful person and a warm and generous human being.

“ Some names we never forget! Glancing at the obits I saw Alice Talley Crowe...a name I had recently seen in an old scrapbook. She was my first grade teacher! It was her first year teaching, and I can still see her greeting us each day with her sweet smile and gorgeous red hair. I am so sorry for your loss. At least her experience with us didn't scare her away from having children! Miss Talley...a special lady in my memory that lasted all these years!
