After a courageous battle with lung cancer, Clark Mitchell Robinson Sr., age 69, formerly of Salem, Va. offered his final witty statement in the presence of his family on July 16, 2021.

Clark graced the world with his birth on July 6, 1952, in Cartersville, Va. A talented athlete, Clark graduated from Prince Edward Academy and Fork Union Military Academy before playing football at Ferrum College.

He was a religious man who showed his service by helping others any way that he could.

“ Clark was certainly a tough and determined man who stuck to his principle. He was a true and kind gentleman who never forgot those that he knew growing up. Whenever I saw him (not often as he had moved away, he had all of the time in the time in the world to talk, inquire about family and friends. He has made an impression me ever since I first saw him handle himself on and off of the football field...treating those with lesser talents as important folks from whom he could learn something.
