“ My papa was a really great man he was so wise and selfless. He was always there for you when you needed him most and helping in any way possible. He was always very understanding and would give you the best advice that he could. In his eyes i always knew he was proud of me for becoming the woman i am today. The thing that hurts the most is that he wont get to meet his second great grandchild on this earth.

I will love and miss you forever!
