“ Uncle Frank, when I cross over, I know you’ll be right there to tell me to pull up a couple of chairs and sit down with you. And I’ll laugh and scold you like I always do.

I was eating steak the other night and remembered the time the family went out to eat and I ordered a rare steak. You told me that a good vet could save that cow.

Your sense of humor was awesome and it’s the thing I’ll miss most about you.

What I will not miss is your practical jokes, like the time you put a stocking over your face and came to the sliding glass door and pressed your face against it while Barbara and I were watching TV. Although it has become a favorite memory, at the time it was not funny and Barbara and I thought we were surely about to die.

I love you, Uncle Frank. Please hug and kiss the rest of my family and tell them I’ll be there soon enough.
