“ My heart goes out to Glenn's family. He will be missed by everyone that knew him. Glenn was a good, honest and caring person that always looked and found the goodness in other people, he never looked for or spoke bad of others. On my last visit with him I ask if it would be OK to have prayer, He spoke in his quiet voice and said please do. As I held his hand and ask God to bless his life and bring peace to his heart and soul, I saw tears fill his eyes as he said Amen and walked back to his room. I told Glenn many times over the years in cards and with words how lucky I was to have him as a brother in-law, how lucky Cindy was to have him as a husband, he always showed that shy grin and always said thank you. My heart is saddened, I will miss him more than I can express with words. May God comfort each of his family members, especially Cindy, John, Glenn Jr. because Your loss is much greater than all the rest.##imported-begin##Sarah Taylor##imported-end##
