“Gloria came out to Oregon to hang out with her new grandson. We took her mountain climbing from Timberline Lodge up to Silcox Hut at 7000 ft It took a lot of effort but she made it Gloria had been a smoker for years and had recently quit - she was tasting the tobacco kicking up out of her lungs. After hanging out on a beautiful afternoon high on Mt Hood she declared that she will never smoke again, and completing this hard hike was tough on her but highly motivating. Gloria told me this outing showed her that she still had lots of gas in her tank - and she sure did !!
