“ Words cannot express the myriad of thoughts which now rush through my head when I think about Jackson and Rebecca. I love you both still. Though Jackson no longer resides here physically, I pray that he somehow remains with Rebecca and his children. In high school, Jackson was to me always sort of an enigma - but one thing I did know about him was that he was one sure of and committed to his purpose. During a time when most of us were so fragile and unsure of so many things, Jackson always know who he was and was proud of it. A man of strong will and good intent - exemplified by his dedication to his wife and family. We could all aspire to be as good a person.##imported-begin##Lewis McKelvey##imported-end##

“ Words do not adequately express the sorrow in the hearts our family upon learning of Jackson's going home. We love you and are praying for you everyday. It was a blessing just to know him, just as we count it a blessing to know his precious family. May God be with you!

“ Rebecca et al:

*You and Jackson were one of the first people we met when we visited Reedy River. It was your table we sat at during the Valentine Supper when we didn't really know anyone other than Joe, Mararget and Brenda. Little did we know how much we would come to love you and your family. I'm sure Jackson is standing on the edge of glory in a brand new pair of WHITE overalls looking down at Reedy River and saying that was MY church! We know how much he loved it, and just wanted to let you know how much we love you and will miss big Jackson. Please call on us if we can do ANYTHING to help you all.##imported-begin##Lynn R.
