“Clint, It is hard to find the right words to fully express how I feel at this time. I will begin by saying how truly sorry I am. Jessica is loved and adored by so many people, and she will be greatly missed by everyone who knew her. She is a very special person who was truly spirit filled. She is one of those rare people that not only modeled Christ in her daily walk, but poured Him out all over everyone she came in contact with. I saw her as a picture perfect example of what a Christian should be. I can't help but to rejoice in her union with our Heavenly Father. And although I know that we will all see her again one day, I will still grieve with the many people that will miss her until that day comes. I can not begin to understand what you are going through at this time, but I pray that the Lord allows me to take a small piece of your burden. I pray that he gives you a double blessing from the Holy Spirit, and brings you the comfort that only He can give. You and Jessica have been such an inspiration through it all. You have both touched so many lives in so many ways that you could never know the extent of it all. You and Jessica had many common desires throughout this hardship. But your number one desire was to see God glorified in this no matter what. And I can attest to you that God was and still is being glorified. Clint, I want to thank you and Jessica for the Christ like example you've shown throughout this heartbreaking adventure you have taken together. Once again words are not enough during a time like this, but I am sincerely burdened for you, and I am truly sorry for your loss. If there is anything I can do to ease the burden please let me know. I will be praying for the little miracle He has blessed you with. And I will continue to pray for you and the rest of the family.

Isaiah 43:2-3

“ I am so sorry for your loss and will continue to pray for grace to stand. I know you are suffering Clint and you will find yourself at a loss while reaching out to our Savior. That will be the time he understands. Jessica's walk with Christ has affected my walk with Jesus. When we lost TJ she would gently hug me and tell me not to worry about crying when I was at church. She said I was strong and her strength has put me to shame. I would love to help in any way. You will probably wonder how the world can keep going when Jessica your love is gone. I will come and talk to you then. I can't tell you how sorry I am for your loss. I thank God for giving you the gift of your daughter. I pray she is just like Jessica and just as sweet.
