“ I knew Dr. John by the name "OD" in a Furman OLLI discussion group called "Big Questions" that he and another friend started about eight years ago. OD was consistently open, honest, interesting, and fun to share ideas with. His wide range of experiences in his medical life gave him special insights into many of our topics. I will miss him and our conversations walking to our cars in the parking lot after the group broke up. No one else like OD. Please accept my condolences for your loss.
