“ Kelly and I were diehard Clemson Football Fans and each time Clemson Won we gave each other high 5s. and when Clemson Lost we spent time discussing why they lost and what they would have to do differently to win the next. We both had praises for Debi because of his qualities of grooming kids into responsible men. She and I worked together and closely. She was project oriented and completed them on time. Especially during year-end tax season. Kelly we will cherish all the memories you have left behind. We all wish you could have stayed on. I know you caught well but God wanted you sooner hence He Won. You are in a better place with the Lord Under His Wings. You will be missed, your bubbly laughs and smiles will be missed your cheers will be missed. When I was down you cheered me and boosted my morale. Thanks for everything you did at work. No words could express my gratitude and it was my honor and privilege to present the Associate of The Year Award to you which you very well deserved. Gary please know that she was very special person with a tinder kind heart and loving nature and very compassionate person. Credit goes to her parents who raised her a true spiritual person. You all family members are and will be in my prayers

“ My heart goes out to Gary and the rest of Kelly's family. Kelly was a pure joy to work with. Kelly always kept me laughing. I never enjoyed celebrating someone else's birthday so much until I met Kelly. Her joy was so contagious that we couldn't help but enjoy Kellypalooza, as she called it. She will be missed.

“ So many memories to only share just one of such a sweet friend of many years. From school days, parties, beach trips, lake days, weddings and many more. We will never forget our pigeon forge hotel sign "older than some cleaner than most" and all the fun that was had there and also of course our Nantahala rafting trip!! Kelly was the best friend a girl could ask for and I'm so thankful that I have so many memories to look back on and cherish forever. Until we meet again my sweet friend!!

“ Kelly was a special soul that brightened the day in the office; I wish she knew this before she left. You could tell when she was on vacation; her wit, her contagious laugh and her big presence were already missed. She was always nice and would not hold back to share more explanation when I had a question, she could have been a good teacher. She always wore neat cross-body purses and was always up to going to Saffron for lunch with the group. Kelly will be always in a special place in our hearts and she will be greatly missed. Rest in peace dear Kelly.
My deepest condolences to her family,
Veronica Espinoza.

“ Dear Kelly... where do I begin? You were my first friend when my family moved from Mauldin to Travelers Rest. We went through middle school, braces, boys, and high school together. Afternoons & weekends spent acting crazy & driving our parents nuts... Summers spent swimming and laying out by your parents' pool... Had our first car accident together, and both walked away unscathed (the big man upstairs was surely watching over us)... Four years at Clemson together, roommates both laughing through our struggles to get our accounting degrees (and nearly going insane in the process)! Partying on the weekends, going to every Clemson football game together, tailgating and pulling for our Tigers all the way. Maids/matrons of honor in each other's weddings... Worked together at the same company for a short time, because you helped me get a job there when I went back to work after having Tyler. We even eventually moved into the same neighborhood together, purely by 'coincidence'... and you have lived right down the road from me for the last 17 years. Every time we talked, the conversation would last for over an hour, and still we never ran out of things to say. There never seemed to be enough time to catch up on things...

You were the best friend any girl could have hoped for, and the sister I never had. Never did I ever think that it would end this way, so soon. I don't understand why God chose to call you home at such a young age, but on Monday, February 8th at 2:43 pm, that is what He did - and for now, I have to trust in Him and know that as much as it hurts, His will is perfect and complete. My heart is shattered, not only for myself, but also the many loved ones that you leave behind... but I know that you, my beautiful friend, are in the arms of Jesus, walking on streets of gold and experiencing more happiness, love & beauty than any of us could possibly know right now; you are whole, healthy, and never to know sorrow or pain again. And for that, I am very thankful!

So I won't say good-bye forever - only good-bye for now... I'll see you again soon, sweet friend. I love you so much!

“ 19 years ago I met a beautiful and sweet young woman at work and I thought she would be perfect for one of my best friends Gary. I had to convince both of them to go on a blind date together and they both fought me..lol. But holy cow the next day they were both so excited to tell me how it went. I loved watching Kelly & Gary fall in love and was blessed to attend their wedding. I was lucky that Kelly and I worked together and she always had a moment to stop and talk about what her and Gary were up to, the trips to Disney and what was happening in our shared neighborhood. I am now heartbroken for my friend Gary, and saddened for the loss of this beautiful & kind woman. Our office will forever miss her sweet spirit. I'm at a loss to express my sadness and wish both families some peace.

“ I am very lucky to have many memories of Kelly but, they are still way too few. Mom would have said she remembered how much Kelly loved pickles as a child (I heard that many, many times from Kelly’s Granny). For myself, I have memories of attending Kelly’s College Graduation from Clemson where she followed in the footsteps of her dad. I have memories of Kelly’s beautiful wedding to Gary and memories of when they came to visit Chicago in the middle of the “polar votex” where we had to wipe the foggy windows to see the beautiful Christmas lights of Rosemont. I remember Kelly laughing at the silly things I said coming in and out of remnant anesthesia after a “procedure” because I wanted to stay up and visit ...instead of going to bed (where I should have been). I remember how strong Kelly was for Gary when he was in the hospital and how adorable she was in her Cubs gear at a rainy baseball game and taking our picture in the mirrors at the top of the Hancock Building. I remember the bracelet she helped me pick out at the market in Charleston. I will forever remember what a sweet beautiful girl Kelly was and how lucky I am to have had her in my life. You will forever be in my heart Dear Kelly.

“ I have DVDs of sleep-over nights at our house with pre-teen Aubrey, Kelly and Anna playing piano, singing, dancing and I have to go dig them out when I think I can bear to watch them. If Aubrey wasn't home, she was at Kelly's. If Kelly wasn't home, she was here. Sometimes, Ann would come down with Kelly and the four of us would watch chick flicks all evening in the basement. What wonderful, sweet and innocent days those were. Then the day arrived when it was time for them to learn to drive....oh, mercy....say no more! Before we knew it, they were taking turns driving back & forth to Clemson every weekend. Then their beautiful weddings a few years apart. Then Kelly convinced Aubrey to build a new house in the same community where she lived. They fed each other's cats while one was on vacation, even worked together at the same place for a time. Neighbors for 17 years. No wonder Aubrey feels like she's lost her sister and we feel like we've lost a daughter! Prayers for you ALL, Gary, Ed, Ann, Ryan and Addie. God bless you all in these difficult days ahead. We love you all!
