“ Mr Morris was a calm and gentle spirit. His love and concern was shown in his actions. Morris was the first knock at the door to bring comforting words to me and Nick the day after my Dad died this past June. My Dad cherished their friendship that started in childhood. About six weeks ago, I saw Morris sitting on his backporch soaking in the sun. I went up there and sat and talked with him. We talked about many things but one was about how wonderful it was for all of us who grew up on Grandview Circle. Morris was an influence that made it wonderful! He lived a life worth imitating.
