“ Today my thoughts have been about Laura and the sweetness she had deep within. When my Daughter Denise got married, Laura did the flowers for the wedding. She asked me what I wanted and I told her to do whatever she wanted to do, that she knew a whole lot more about wedding decorations than I did. Well, Laura, went all out. I remember my son Jeremy asking me, what did you tell Laura you wanted? I told him that I had left it entirely to her. He just shook his head and told me that I would not believe what she wanted to do! She surprised all of us with an absolutely beautiful atmosphere at the wedding, that included beautiful plants, gorgeous flower arrangements, and a beautiful bridal bouquet. The church had never looked so beautiful before or since, and Laura was the one who brought it all about. She was a talented young lady and it makes me sad to know that she is gone and will not have an opportunity to bless others with the talent that God gave her. She came from a family that lives and breathes flowers and plants and she had the gift in her genes to go far.....I am thankful to know that she loved Jesus and will now have the opportunity to use her gifts for Him.
