“ It has been 3 weeks since Lynn (my wife) went to be with the Lord. Seems like just yesterday when I was holding her and she said her last goodbye. Lynn was one of the most unselfish and loving people toward others. Most of all, she helped raise three of the most wonderful children in the world (Jennifer, Jonathan and Justin). She loved our grandchildren with all her heart. She prayed everyday for them to come to the Lord at an early age and her prayers are being answered. She also led me to the Lord many years ago. Lynn never asked for anything big as far as material things. She enjoyed the smallest things like stuffed animals, paper dolls and tea sets--but especially cookbooks. She loved getting the family together at Christmas time more than anyone I have ever known. I loved her and now I miss her. She is with the Lord in a perfect body with no more pain and she is happy as can be. Lynn told me she was ready to go home to be with the Lord. No one can really know how much I enjoyed knowing and being married to such a loving person for the last 50 years. I love you, Lynn, and miss you dearly.

“ Lynn, you are a wonderful big Sister. Growing up, You always took up for me, even when I was wrong! I remember you cried more than I did when I got spanked!

You always amazed me when you sat down at the piano-there was alot of beauty in your soul, and it came out so strong when you played.

You have a strong legacy: Jenny, Jonathan, and Justin. Their lives say more wonderful things about you, than I ever could in this short space.

Give my love to Daddy and Grandma Addis first.

Your Brother Mark
