“ I know I'm late. But I do want to say to the family that I am sorry heartbroken to hear of your loss. As everyone has said she had a smile that lit up a room. She was truly my best friend for a period of time. The best anyone could ask for. I lost my dad last June. She called him "Big D". Now they are laughing in heaven about that. Lying here I couldn't sleep, memories flooding through she came across . my mind as well as the rest of the family :)I got online and found this. I really sincerely love yall and thank yall for everything. Hope each of you are finding your way to cope with this. One day at a time... )i

“ Dear Gary, Cheryl, Kristy, and Tripp Family,
We were so sorry to hear the news of Melissa’s passing. Please know that you are being prayed for and will continue to be prayed for in the days ahead. A few years back, when I was down visiting, I saw your girls the in the Target Store in Greer. They spoke to me first and I didn’t know who they were. They had really grown up into two beautiful young ladies. I will always remember their kind words.

“ Gary, Cheryl and Kristy,

I am so sorry for your loss. No doubt this is a difficult time for you. I will be praying for you and your family.

Eagles in a Storm

Did you know that an eagle knows when a storm is approaching long before it breaks? The eagle will fly to some high spot and wait for the winds to come. When the storm hits, it sets its wings so that the wind will pick it up and lift it above the storm. While the storm rages below, the eagle is soaring above it. The eagle does not escape the storm. It simply uses the storm to lift it higher. It rises on the winds that bring the storm. When the storms of life come upon us – and all of us will experience them – we can rise above them by setting our minds and our belief toward God. The storms do not have to overcome us. We can allow God’s power to lift us above them. God enables us to ride the winds of the storm that bring sickness, tragedy, failure and disappointment in our lives. We can soar above the storm. Remember, it is not the burdens of life that weigh us down, it is how we handle them. So, lift your arms and let God lift you above the storm. The Bible says, “Those who hope in the Lord will renew their strength. They will soar on wings like eagles.” Isaiah 40:31.

“ Dear Josh, Gary, Cheryl, Christy and Family,
I was so sorry to hear about Melissa. I will always remember her sweet smile, it would light up a room. There was not a picture on FB that she shared that she was not smiling, and I know she is smiling down on you all.
Your family is in my thoughts and prayers.
