“ Barry,

We have just now read about Pam's passing. We are so very sad for you and your family. I can't remember Pam any way except very bright and beautiful! Joe has a neurological condition called cerebellar ataxia and is in a wheelchair, so reading this really saddens my heart! God bless you all! We pray you feel the comfort of the Holy Spirit while you're going through this. Words are just not enough.##imported-begin##Dottie & Joe Rhoden##imported-end##

“ I grew up next door on Echo Lane. Pam made the best birthday cakes in the world. I remember her telling me that she just used extra oil to make them moist. To this day at the age of 35, everytime I bake a cake, I always use extra oil because that's what Mrs. Hughes did. I remember going next door to borrow a cup of sugar and buying each other gifts when we went on vacations. For years after we moved to Georgia we decorated the Christmas tree with the ornaments the Hughs family bought at Disney. They were clear and had out names on them: Hope, Brice and Rachel.

Thank you, Ms. Pam##imported-begin##Hope Wood##imported-end##

“ My family and I used to live next door to you guys on Echo, and I can remember Ms. Pam like it was yesterday. She was such a fun, sweet mom who always made me feel like one of her own whenever I would come over. I remember her bringing us cupcakes and even making birthday cakes for me. I cherish my memories and pray that God holds you all close and guides you through the days to come. God bless you all.##imported-begin##Rachel Wood##imported-end##

“ Dear Family,there is not enough space to share my memories of Pam or "Frog"as she was dubbed by our "forever young"old circle "gang".Thru out our elementary years at Slater and at Slater High we'd walk each other home after playing barbies,baseball,football,or b-ball an yell "you ok"up and down the hill.We had each others back-our gang did-even thru out our years at Travelers Rest High.It's no secret we shared everything that blood sisters share.We laughed an cried an laughed even harder.We all loved each other and we kept that love thru out marriages,babies,death an all that life breaths.We held hands,as sisters do.The circle "gang"is one member short now,and we had to let go of your hand.Thank-you Pam for sharing your love,an laughter,an for being a forever friend.All that is an was you will be missed.I will love you all-always....just know that earth has no sorrow that Heaven cannot heal.##imported-begin##Peachie Moody-Buzbee##imported-end##

“ I had the pleasure of working with Pam at Grammer for four years. One of the things I remember most about her was her love of music: She always had the best tunes playing from her cubicle. Whenever I hear Maroon Five, I always think of her. That will remain especially true now.

I pray that Pam's family and friends will find solace in their faith, knowing that she is now in Heaven, safe in the arms of our Lord, and forever with them. Rest in eternal peace, Pam.##imported-begin##Rica Rose Omlie Conover##imported-end##

“ I am very sorry for her lost. I enjoyed time with Pam as a co-worker at Grammer. I had the opportunity to meet her daughter and went out for dinner wit her and her husband at Deveraux where her son used to work.
Every Friday Pam and I used to "go" to a different restaurant to eat lunch.
I will always remember when she told me about her listening music and watching the "sprinklers" enjoying time with "Barry"
God Bless you Pam and go with God! You will be miss here so much
