“ I worked for Dobber for a good while. He always treated me like family and taught me many things about the job. We worked side by side in some really rough conditions and he depended on me to hold down certain aspects of the job. He made me feel like I was a part of something special and I loved him for it. Dobber always had a smile on his face and kept up a hilarious monolog all day long. I miss Dobber and I can still hear his voice. RIP, Dob.
