Travis Wendell Clark of Greenville, passed away peacefully, July 29th, 2021 at his home.

“ I'll always remember Travis's easy going nature. I remember him saying he never argued with anyone because there was no point; he was not going to change his mind and they were not going to change their mind. Even so, it never kept him from being friends with anyone. Travis had the best sense of humor, he could find the funny in anything.

“ I have fond memories of Travis from summers past at Grandmother Ruby and Granddad Baily's farm. We did our best to catch up with one another, check to see how much we'd grown, eat everything in sight, and run around the farm like a bunch of crazies. Granddad must have told us a hundred times to stop slamming the screen porch door and don't chase the pigs! Travis was always in the thick of things. What fun! Great memories!

“ Travis was one of the sweetest people I have ever known. He was a loving son. He was there for his dad and mom when my brother needed a caregiver.

He was very proud of his boys.

We spoke intermittently through the years. Blessings to all of you.

For me, Travis is frozen in time as a little boy - full of of life and excitement, a dutiful and obedient child, and full of admiration for his big brothers.

*May the memories you hold of your father and brother comfort you as you transition to a world without him.
Peace be unto you at this sad time.*
