“ I just got an email telling of Warren's passing through Hiawatha High alumni notification. So sorry to hear of his passing. He is with his dearly beloved wife and celebrating. I'm sure that the Lord used it in preparing me to serve Him as I get to help those addicted to sin. Thank you for your family being a friend to me as I was young and so introverted. I didn't say much, but your family's friendship meant a lot to me. Your family had a great influence on my life.

“ We are so sorry to hear of Warren's passing and our condolences go out to the family, especially his son Victor and wife Lynn Berg. We met Warren Berg before his wife Pearl passed away. At the recommendation of his son Vic, Warren was doing some small renovations in our home. We were amazed that a man of his age could physically do the work he did, but his work was performed with true craftsmanship. After he would finish his work each day, we would stand around and talk to him and it would inevitably center around the Lord. We later met his wife Pearl and you could tell he loved her dearly. He missed her terribly when she passed and it seemed that he was never the same. What a joyous reunion Warren is having with Pearl. It was such a pleasure to know Warren and enjoy the conversations we had about our love for the Lord. He touched many lives in a special way during his journey here, and our lives were two of them. Heaven has received a wonderful man.

“ I was fortunate to meet Rev. Berg when Vic and I would get together and talk motorcycles. His quiet spirit and words affected me in ways that show even now at my age of 56. And his boys are two fine examples of what the power of God can do through a father and husband. I was very happy to call them my friends.

I had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Berg at Richard Campbell Nursing home. My dad is there and Mr. Berg befriended him. He was an extra ordinary man, he loved the Lord, Every meal he would ask the blessing. And he loved musical instuments. Our loss on earth is Heaven's gain. We admired him and loved him, we will meet you in Heaven. God bless each of the family, Jesus shelter you with your love.
